Clean sweep in heritage week, Ahmedabad

Across the globe, people will celebrate the World Heritage Week from November 19 to 25, cherishing local heritage and working to conserve it. But in Gujarat, except for the better known structures, historical edifices are on the brink of oblivion and many have been turned into garbage dumping grounds. A team from the city has thus fused the mission of the Prime Minister to clean India with the heritage week celebrations. A team of 10 from the city, a part of the Ahmedabad-based Historical and Cultural Research Center, will embark on a journey on November 19 from Patan (Anhilwad) to reach to Patan (Prabhas) on November 25. The team will cover 12 locations during the week during which they will mobilize local residents by conducting walks to important monuments and then cleaning them up. Times of India, November 18, 2014
